

From the editors of Bank Directors Briefing,
 a “sound” investment
 in your board ...

The best of “THE DIRECTOR’S JOB”
 —on tape or CD!

For years directors have told us how helpful they find our regular feature, “The Director’s Job.” But up until now, if your bank only recently started subscribing to the newsletter, past-but-still-helpful columns were gone for good.

Now, we’ve gathered some of the best of the early “The Director’s Job” columns and made it convenient to review them by putting them on tape. Imagine your directors being able to turn idle drive time into director self-education. ... Spending an evening with a tape or CD before a board meeting and toning up the mental muscles. ... Or using sections of the recording to spark discussion during your board’s annual planning retreat.
